Criteria for the 2009-10 OATYC Adjunct Teacher of the Year Award:

Candidates must have a current, part-time appointment with at least three or more quarters or semesters of continuous teaching service on a public, associate degree-granting, two-year campus, which is a current member of OATYC at the time the Award is presented, or who is an individual member of OATYC at the time the Award is presented. (Simply attending the conference qualifies you as a current member of the organization.)

Listed below are the five criteria used to make the selection for the "OATYC Adjunct Teacher of the Year." Describe your contributions to each of the five criteria. Please stay within the stated word limits. Do not submit letters of support or additional items of evidence at this time. If the Awards Committee desires to see such material, you will be contacted.

40 points: Innovative approaches to teaching, including the development of new courses, teaching material and methods. (200 words)

20 points: Work with students and student organizations. (100 words)

20 points: Civic and community activities, especially those which support the educational objectives of the College or Campus. (100 words)

10 points: Continuing education, work toward additional degrees, or activities toward professional development. (75 words)

10 points: Leadership and participation in workshops, seminars, short courses, and professional organizations. (75 words)

Please return this entire completed form--the part filled out by the nominee (above); and the part filled out by the nominator (below)—and send this completed form to:
